Q4. The Welsh Assembly Government is planning to introduce a law to change the way organs are donated in Wales. If it's passed, the new law would presume people want to donate their organs when they die, unless they choose to opt out by taking their names off the register. This is known as "presumed consent". Are you personally ...?

Q4. The Welsh Assembly Government is planning to introduce a law to change the way organs are donated in Wales. If it's passed, the new law would presume people want to donate their organs when they die, unless they choose to opt out by taking their names off the register. This is known as "presumed consent". Are you personally ...?

Q7. You may have seen or heard that reforms are currently planned for the NHS in ENGLAND that would increase the powers of GPs to commission services and increase competition between private and public providers. In Wales, the Government's policy is to stick to the current system of Local Health Boards with little or no competition or involvement by the private sector.
